

A hand-drawn illustration of a natural scene. The background is a light beige color. The scene is framed by a thick yellow border. On the left, there is a brown tree trunk and green foliage. In the center, there are several insects: a green dragonfly-like insect at the top, a blue dragonfly-like insect on the right, and two bees (one black and blue, one yellow and black) in the middle. At the bottom, there are green grass-like plants and several red flowers. The text is written in a cursive, handwritten style.

congratulations on becoming wildlife stewards

This family has helped their community by planting native plants and building habitats to save local wildlife.

Please visit <http://wildlifestewards.weebly.com> for more information about this project.